GRAPHICS SYSTEMS LAUNCHES CAD TECH BLOG

Menomonee Falls, WI – January 22, 2007

Graphics Systems Corporation, the Midwest's leader in SolidWorks, is pleased to be the first SolidWorks Reseller to offer a CAD Tech Blog. Graphics Systems' new tech blog, SolidNotes, is an online CAD resource available free to all visitors.

SolidNotes features tips, tricks, and troubleshooting for various CAD programs and categories including: Mechanical Design, Design Validation, Data Management, Design Automation, and 3D Printing. SolidNotes articles are written and updated regularly by the experienced, award-winning staff at Graphics Systems. With over 15 years of experience in the CAD industry, the Graphics Systems team transfers their extensive industry knowledge into informative and useful technical articles to assist fellow CAD users. Also, blog authors encourage all SolidNotes visitors to respond to articles with any questions or comments they have for the Graphics Systems team.

To view the SolidNotes Tech Blog, visit the Graphics Systems webpage at www.gxsc.com.
